I talked with Edward Roaddan in Senator McMahon's Office. He advised the Susan Stevenson, noted sculptress, who is the sister of the Belgium Ambassador, is getting ready for a spring exhibit and has done a head of General Eisenhower and now wants to do a head of the Director.

I told Eddie I did not see how the Director could do this as it would be necessary for him to give several sittings and his work was of such a type he could not function with an outsider in the room and he asked that if she called us to say Senator McMahon had called this to our attention.

Susan Stevenson called. She wanted to make an appointment to get a sitting of the Director and said it would take only an hour or two. I told her the Director was extremely pressed at the moment and I did not see how it would be possible to work this into his program.

Dear Biographees:

Attached hereto you will find a proof of the listing in respect to you to be published in the First Edition of Who Knows--And What: Among Authorities, Experts and the Specially Informed.

Being from type already in galleys, you are requested to check it for errors of fact only, and then to return it--in the enclosed postpaid envelope--whether or not such errors are indicated, as it is to be utilized in the course of page make-up on being returned.

Since actual publication of Who Knows--And What--which is now of course being approached as manufacture of it proceeds through the several steps--will automatically void it, I should no doubt here, as a matter of record, direct your attention to the following advance-of-publication discount privilege to which, by action of our Editorial Board, you are entitled as a listee cooperating with our Editors during compilation by supplying data and checking manuscripts and proofs:

The First Edition of Who Knows--And What is made available only to listees, and as a reciprocation for assistance extended our Editors during its compilation, on the following bases:

At $11.00, representing a 20% discount from the list price of $15.25 (which includes 45 cents on account of packaging and delivery costs) if ordered and paid for now, in advance of publication.

(Ordered now, but paid for on being billed at the time of delivery, the regular list price will apply--$15.25, plus 45 cents on account of billing and delivery costs, or a total of $15.70.)

As you are presently entitled to this discount--as the privilege is a pre-publication one and available only to listees by order of the Editorial Board mentioned above, it lapses automatically on announcement of the publication date of the new book--a blank which, when validated by your signature, extends it, will be enclosed herewith.

Return of the enclosed listing as promptly as possible is bespoken of you by the Editors, since Who Knows--And What is to be indexed in a special style which necessitates all listings being in hand before the final "keying" to this index can be carried forward.

Yours very truly,

The Enclosures

Galley proof of your sketch as it is scheduled to appear in the First Edition.

WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT

among Authorities-Experts-and the Specially Informed

The Unique New Reference Book That "Index Keys" Knowers to the Subjects About Which They Know

OVER fifty years ago The A. N. Marquis Company founded "Who's Who in America," based on the then unique idea that biographee-verified sketches of noteworthy living American men and women, selected according to precise reference-interest standards, would result in a biographical dictionary of lasting value and day-to-day usefulness.

The Marquis Editors have been busy for over three years preparing another unique American reference book for series publication as a companion volume to "Who's Who in America." The compilation of this new book—WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT: AMONG AUTHORITIES, EXPERTS AND THE SPECIALLY INFORMED—is now completed.

It is a useful, practical reference tool which "keys" 16,000 knowers to over 30,000 subjects of enquiry by means of the novel method illustrated opposite. It supplies rapid finger-tip service to the consultant seeking not only who knows about what and why they know, but where they are.

Its reference essentiality is as a result obvious—in office and home; in public, private, institutional, commercial and specialized libraries—to editors, educators, writers, businessmen, researchers, officials—and to all the knowers in the specialisms covered, themselves.

WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT is unique because it "key-lists" to specific conversance—to individual "know-about." It does not duplicate the scores of collections of facts supplying information for the run of miscellaneous routine enquiry. And it does not duplicate listings covering minute and detailed specializations of slight or exceedingly limited normal reference interest. Nor does it duplicate directories listing scientists, doctors, engineers, lawyers, medical specialists, educators, and others by profession, vocation, avocation or hobbies. Everyone is specially informed in respect to his or her pursuits, and the "coined" title WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT indicates selection under an arbitrary meaning and not an attempt to compile a national occupational census.

But it does supply something that has long been needed but has heretofore been unavailable: an easy-to-use "key" to those who actually know about over 30,000 specific subjects.

To the right—is shown the "keying" method used to index subjects to knowers and information sources. Notice that each listing on the portion of an actual page reproduced (upper right, opposite) is preceded by a number. Since such numbers, starting arbitrarily at "10," precede the listings on every page, they, linked with the page number involved, provide the simple, and easy-and-rapid-to-use two-number "keys" that appear after subjects in the index. The subject "key" being, for example, "101-12," on page 101, listing 12, will be found the specific reference—that's how reference handy WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT is!

"WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT . . . as much a first as 'Who's Who' itself was when founded fifty years ago."

Advance-of-publication comment—

"We are all looking forward with the greatest eagerness to the publication of this interesting and important volume."

A librarian

"I firmly believe that a reference book of this kind ('WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT') will supply a great demand. There is hardly a day passes but some friend of mine will tell me that he is interested in a certain subject and would like to know whom he could communicate with in order to receive expert information."

A business executive

"Often I have felt the need for such a reference volume and no doubt my feelings are shared by other specialists."

A technician

"A well prepared compilation of this type will be an extremely valuable reference volume."

A managing editor

"I hasten to express my satisfaction that such a work is in progress."

An art museum director

"Is there any date set for the publication of 'WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT'? We are most anxious to get one of the first copies off the press."

A publisher

"'WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT' promises to be a useful sort of book, especially for persons who are authorities in unusual lines."

A sociologist

"This book . . . will certainly become a solid institution . . . be worth to many users ten times your price."

A literary critic

"May I say that I am enthusiastic over this forthcoming volume. The possibilities of the development of this idea of yours are almost infinite."

A library director

"Calculated to fill one of the 'long felt wants.' What tons of labor it would have saved in my research work!"

An author

"This directory will fill an important place in our scientific structure."

A scientist

"It is good to see that your organization is increasing its service to the American public with this new volume."

An engineer

"Let us add our compliments to you for establishing such a compendium of authorities and subject matter."

An association executive

"We are much interested in the prospective publication of 'WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT.' We expect it to be a valuable reference work for us, and believe it will be of interest as well to many of our clients and others interested in industrial research."

An industrial engineer

"I think that your new undertaking, 'WHO KNOWS—AND WHAT: AMONG AUTHORITIES, EXPERTS AND THE SPECIALLY INFORMED,' will make a tremendous hit, and be very, very useful."

FIRST EDITION

NOTE: This is an interim proof of the entry in reference to you scheduled to appear in the new—The First—Edition of "Who Knows—And What" which is now being alphabetized for typesetting. This sketch has been put into type from a manuscript prepared from data made available by you. Your cooperation in now checking it carefully will obviously be mutually advantageous, for publication in "Who Knows—And What" will place it as a permanent record in libraries and other reference centers. Please return it promptly (to The A. N. Marquis Company, Marquis Publications Building, Chicago—11, Illinois, U. S. A.) whether or not changes are indicated, as the accuracy of the necessary alphabetization depends on each scheduled sketch being in hand.

Dear Mr. Sammons;

I am returning the biographical sketch which you forwarded to me for approval to be published in "Who Knows—And What."

As to the statement contained therein relative to the number of fingerprints on file,
I would like to call your attention to the fact that, today, the Identification Division of the FBI houses a collection of more than 112,000,000 sets of prints, whereas, the article states that there are over 108,000,000 sets of prints. You might want to incorporate the most recent figures in the article.

Honorable Alexander Wiley
United States Senate
Washington, D. C.

My dear Senators:

J. E. HOOVER

Assistant Director L. B. Nichols has called my attention to the copy of your press release of July 9, 1949, which you so thoughtfully sent him and I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your most favorable comments with reference to my administration of the activities of this Organization.

It is always very stimulating to learn of such commendatory observations and the confidence you expressed in the leadership of this Bureau is deeply appreciated. I do hope this Organization will always be worthy of your support.

With expressions of my highest esteem and best regards,

Sincerely yours,

Statement by Senator Alexander Wiley (R.)
EXCLUSIVE - Kent Hunter, Hearst Newspaper
July 9, 1949

COMMENTS ON FURTHER EXECUTIVE PAY RAISE FOR J. EDGAR HOOVER

I, like many other Senators, was very disappointed the pay raise Bill recommended by the House Civil Service Committee, there was a most unfortunate under-evaluation of the role played by the able Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Mr. J. Edgar Hoover. Under that Committee Bill, Mr. Hoover's salary would have been increased from $14,000 to $15,000 a year, a "raise" of approximately 7%, although Cabinet Members' salaries were to be increased by approximately 66% and many Under-Secretaries and the like were to receive jumps up to 100%.

It is most enheartening that the full House acted today to increase Mr. Hoover's pay to $17,500, although even that figure might be questioned as to whether or not it is fully commensurate with his worth.

While Mr. Hoover's position is technically not as high in the Administrative hierarchy of Government as that of a Cabinet officer there is absolutely no comparison between the relative importance of his position and that of virtually any other individual below the White House level in the Executive Branch of Government.

Mr. Hoover's vital role in protecting the national security from subversive individuals and groups as well as protecting the national health and safety from lawless individuals is so well known and so incomparably valuable as not to require repetition.

JUL 14 1949
U.S. DEPT. OF JUSTICE

The record of the F.B.I. to which I have been glad to refer on many occasions on the Floor of the Senate is one of the most spotless and untainted records of any Bureau in the U.S. Government and in the history of our land. The amazing feats of the F.B.I., particularly during the Second World War, when sabotage was prevented and subversive individuals were rounded up in a matter of hours -- that record stands as an unforgettable page in the history of American detection of crime and subversives.

Ordinarily Government salaries might well be classified on the basis of the level of the position and title. However, an exception is more than well justified in the case of the F.B.I. Director. The character of the incumbent, his 25 years of loyal service, the increased significance of his efforts today in this age of Communist threats throughout the globe - all of these factors warrant better treatment on the part of the Senate and House than he has thus far been given as regards salary. I shall join with my colleagues therefore, in making sure that Mr. Hoover's pay is further increased.

H. RES. 262

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JUNE 22, 1949

Mr. NIXON submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

RESOLUTION

Whereas J. Edgar Hoover has recently completed twenty-five years of service as Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; and

Whereas under the leadership and direction of J. Edgar Hoover the Federal Bureau of Investigation has developed into a law-enforcement agency without equal in its effective apprehension of the guilty and its zealous protection of the rights of the innocent; and

Whereas J. Edgar Hoover in the direction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation has set an outstanding example for effective administration and unselfish public service: Therefore be it

1 Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby
2 expresses to J. Edgar Hoover and to the Nation—

3 (1) its appreciation of, and its commendation for,
4 his service to his country; and

5 (2) its complete confidence in the administration and 6 administration of his office.

3:31 PM

Senator Styles Bridges called to offer his support and stated if there was anything at all he could do to let him know. I thanked the Senator for his offer of assistance and told him I was sorry I had missed him when he was down the other day. He stated it would be a calamity and a catastrophe if anything should happen to our setup and they were all backing us up. I told him it was mighty fine of him to so express himself as it had been pretty rugged going, especially when one does not have the support of his superior. I advised the Senator that I had decided to make no comments and that I very much appreciated his calling.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. NICHOLS

Honorable Joseph F. Deeb, United States Attorney at Grand Rapids, called me to ask if there was anything at all he could do to help me in regard to the various matters which have recently been appearing in the newspapers. I expressed my appreciation to Mr. Deeb for his kind offer of assistance, commenting that the going had been pretty rough and that I felt all I could do was to keep quiet. I stated if there was anything that he could do I would certainly let him know. I again expressed my appreciation.

Very truly yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. LADD
MR. NICHOLS

I returned Congressman Frank W. Boykin's call to me and he advised me that he felt very strongly regarding the rumors of my resignation. He wanted to assure me that the whole Congress was behind me and wanted to be of assistance in any way they could. I thanked the Congressman for his kind expressions of confidence and encouragement. He also stated that it was very necessary that we fight the subversive elements. I stated I felt the same way but commented that you can't fight them if all our sources of information are going to be disclosed publicly. I further indicated that this entire matter could have been avoided if the Attorney General had stood his ground and that he, the Attorney General, wanted to get a conviction in the Coplon Case as against the disclosure of confidential information from the files of the FBI. I stated I personally felt that the over-all security of the country was of far greater importance than the individual conviction of one person because what we have to look forward to is what will happen in case we go to war. I stated I wanted to be in a position that I will know what these individuals are doing and it is not possible to do that if our informants are uncovered. I commented that this was the whole issue. The Congressman then asked me if there was any doubt about getting a conviction of the Coplon woman and Gubitchev. I replied that I was not so certain there would be a conviction because Palmer has so confounded the Jury that they do not know who is being tried.

The Congressman ended his conversation by stating he was going to write me a letter and he wanted me to let him know if there was anything he could do. I thanked him for his kindness and stated if there was anything he could do I would call him.

Very Truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover

Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
United States Department of Justice
Washington, D. C.

June 21, 1949

Dear Sir:

For inclusion in the fund to be paid to the widow or designated beneficiary of any Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, who had contributed to this fund prior to July 31, 1949, and who dies from any cause except self-destruction while employed as a Special Agent, I am forwarding herewith (by CHECK - ~~money order~~) the sum of ten dollars ($10.00), made payable to the Chief Clerk of said Bureau, to be included in said fund. Payment will be made for death by self-destruction after the Agent has been a member of the fund for two years. It is understood and agreed that the sum tendered herewith is a voluntary, gratuitous contribution to said fund, which I understand is to be administered in the following manner:

The Director of the Bureau will appoint a committee which shall consider all matters pertaining to the acquisition, safe keeping and expending of said fund, which committee will recommend appropriate action to the Director of the Bureau in pertinent matters. The Chief Clerk of said Bureau shall receive all contributions and account for same to the Director.

Upon the death of any Special Agent, the appointed committee will consider the case and submit a recommendation to the Director as to its conclusions. Appropriate instructions will then be issued to the Chief Clerk, directing him to pay to the designated beneficiary the sum of $10,000.

The following person is hereby designated as my beneficiary for F. B. I. Agents' Insurance Fund:

Honorable John Edgar Hoover
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
United States Department of Justice
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Executives Conference takes this opportunity of extending its heartiest congratulations to you on the fulfillment of 25 years as Director of the Bureau.

Yours has been a career filled with achievement. Behind those achievements, however, and unknown to the public, are days and nights of hard work, worry and apprehension in the solution of problems. Throughout your career you have moved from one emergency to another and have come out of one crisis on the national scene to go into another on the national scene.

Long before the responsibilities of the Directorship were thrust upon you, you were intimately connected with the Bureau, and we have no doubt that those years did much in formulating your opinions, which made possible the achievements that later were to come. With that in mind, the Executives Conference takes great pleasure in awarding you the attached token in recognition of 30 years of meritorious service to the Bureau.

With expressions of highest esteem and admiration,
Sincerely yours,

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE: 1965 O 454-084

1. Now the Director administers the Bureau in carrying out its responsibilities:

The Director personally has organized the FBI's Seat of Government offices into seven Divisions with a chief of each Division. Each Division in turn is organized into Sections and subordinate Units when necessary. The Director is in personal contact with the chiefs of these Divisions frequently and regularly; gives close personal attention to the performances of each of these Divisions and passes on all matters of policy, all suggestions, all general procedural requirements and all programs of planning. Through regular and frequent consultation with the Division Chiefs and at times their subordinates, through the personal examination of the major items of production of each Division, he is able to keep in touch with the efficiency and economy of their operations and to make changes, improvements and modifications as circumstances require. He is assisted in these duties by an Associate Director who reviews and makes recommendations as to matters of policy but even these recommendations are passed on personally by the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The Field Organization of the FBI consists of 51 territorial divisions with an office located in each Division. There is a Special Agent in Charge of each office. Matters of major importance are communicated directly to the Director and he is thus able to keep in touch with these matters of major importance and major developments as they occur. He is able also to give personal direction to major cases and procedures in the Field, although naturally, due to the volume of work, routine and the normal flow of work is first processed and supervised in the respective Divisions responsible therefor. The Director, at least annually, is in personal conference with each Special Agent in Charge and with many of the Special Agents from these various offices and he is thus able to identify their major problems, to counsel, advise and direct the programs and make modifications of procedure being employed.

Through a system of inspections, carefully selected personnel of the most experienced type are designated as Inspectors and they conduct personal inspections both of the Field Offices and of the Seat of Government Divisions and during such inspections they are acting as personal representatives of the Director. Their reports, in turn, are forwarded to the Director. The inspection of each of these Seat of Government and Field establishments embraces every phase of operations, including physical condition, maintenance, property, inventory, operations, administration, personnel, economy, training, planning and general functionings of these establishments. Through this relationship there is provided to the Director personally a second method of contact and supervision of the entire operations of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Of course, within prescribed policies, the Special Agents in Charge in the Field and the Seat of Government Division Chiefs operate with considerable latitude. Modifications of these policies, however, are first approved by the Director when exigencies require. Any changes of policy are also approved personally by the Director himself.

Through a system established personally by the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, there is a careful selection of personnel who, after selection, are each adequately trained and then through the procedure of organization they are supervised and directed through organizational processes.

II. How the Director's Responsibilities and Duties Relate to the National Security, Economy or Health:

Law enforcement is a security program. The internal security duties of the Federal Bureau of Investigation also are of primary importance in the work of the FBI. Cooperation is obtained through a program of coordination with all of the police forces of the nation at state, county and local levels. Relations and cooperative services have been established over a period of years. The FBI offers services to the local, county and state police in fingerprint identification, in Technical Laboratory services, in Uniform Crime Reporting and crime statistics work, in police training and in numerous other similar ways. The police of all levels, in turn, offer assistance to the Special Agents of the FBI in their work. The Director initiated as an outgrowth of the FBI training program, the FBI National Academy to help train police instructors and police executives. Similarly, there are hundreds of schools conducted annually with the assistance of the FBI, all of which raise the standard of police performance in both the enforcement of criminal laws and the handling of national defense, internal security and related matters, including espionage, sabotage and subversiveness.

The Presidential Directive of September 6, 1939, specifically designates the Federal Bureau of Investigation as the coordinator of internal security matters. The program of Law Enforcement Conferences, activating this directive, has resulted in a broad national pattern of friendly cooperation on a voluntary basis to insure the country maximum protection against subversiveness, spies, saboteurs and similar enemies of the nation and at the same time through personal contacts and training the enforcement of the criminal laws has been improved, giving added protection on a national basis to the citizenry.

Since crime is an enormously expensive problem, estimated in its total costs in the billions of dollars annually, the consequence of improved security naturally results in savings and affects the national economy. Improved law enforcement and improved work by the police in national security in cooperation with the FBI has also given added confidence to the citizens in their security as a nation, which, as a consequence, affects the national security.

The responsibilities placed on the FBI by either Congressional action or Executive Order, or both, give added security in connection with the Atomic Energy projects, the Selective Service Act enforcement, the Loyalty of Government Employees and the qualifications of certain governmental personnel in key positions who are investigated prior to appointment by the FBI. The latter groups include judges, United States District Attorneys, marshals and key government officials when inquiries are requested by competent authority.

As a result of the responsibilities and duties performed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation under the personal direction of the Director of the FBI, there is supervision or coordination of the activities and the results of such activities of not only the staff of the FBI but of over 100,000 law enforcement officers brought within the voluntary program of cooperation and coordination in keeping with the Presidential directive.

The FBI also maintains the closest liaison with the intelligence agencies of the military services, both foreign and domestic, which also relates to the national pattern of security and the Director personally is a member of the Interdepartmental Intelligence Conference.

For record purposes this is to advise that Miss Cowan of the Office of Mr. Staats, Bureau of the Budget, telephonically communicated with me yesterday and requested that the Bureau furnish a short statement to the Bureau of the Budget of the duties of the Director to be utilized in connection with the Executive Pay Bill.

In accordance with your instructions, I communicated with Miss Cowan and pointed out to her that the description of duties of the Director as described on pages 600 and 601 of the Congressional Directory properly depict the duties of the Director and that it was felt that this statement of duties would be satisfactory for her use. She stated that in the event Mr. Staats desired any further information, she would communicate further with me.

President Truman Tops This 'Best Dressed' List

The nation's ten best dressed males of 1948 were named today.

Mrs. Veronica Dengel, president of American Women's Institute, today announced that President Truman led all candidates in the contention for the sartorial title of 1948 in a survey she conducted while on a national lecture tour to determine women's opinions on various aspects of male garb.

The ten males who topped the list were:

President Truman—Ideal Look—"His garb mirrors Americana. It's neat, smart and striking, and the ideal standard sought by the average business man. He shows wise discrimination in choice of style and color."

Dr. Karl T. Compton—Learned Look—"He presents a picture of methodical and scientific conservatism; Impeccable and distinguished in appearance. He has attained a professional smartness unshared by any other scientific man."

Maurice Tobin, Secretary of Labor—Romantic Look—"A handsome man who wears clothes in a handsome manner. His mair pulchritude and trim-tailored garb make him a dream idol of every woman."

Henry Ford II—Junior Executive Look—"He is the outstanding example of the well-dressed youth in the transition to executive maturity. His clothes are marked by distinction and simplicity."

Ruby Newman, Society maestro—Ultra Suave Look—"He is fastidious of perfection. Always precise to every stitch and detail; his suavity provokes the heartbeat of the most sophisticated socialites."

Joe DiMaggio, N. Y. Yankees outfielder—Sports Look—"A rugged athlete who wears clothes in the most casual perfection. He is contemporary of American sportsmanship."

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia University—Poised Look—"An ideal of every red-blooded growing youth, he dresses with a superb informal artistry, reflecting his magnificent character and personality."

Charles Luckman, Lever Bros. president—Luxurious Simplicity—"Smartly tailored, he is the superb portrait of a magnanimous executive cognizant of his position and yet with a blending characteristic of striking informality."

Adolph Menjou—screen star—Elegantly Debonair—"He is the peak of fabulous perfection, and the most spectacular model of male attire. He is the last of a passing era of meticulous luxury."

disclosed that women prefer men wearing hats, single-breasted suits, french cuffs, black shoes and socks. They deplored colored shirts and excessive jewelry accessories.

J. Edgar Hoover, head of FBI—Contemporary Look—"He is the mirror of the average American white collar worker. Neat, simple and conservative."

The comments are a summary of opinions regarding each man by the Institute's members. Mrs. Dengel declared. The survey also disclosed that women prefer men wearing hats, single-breasted suits, french cuffs, black shoes and socks. They deplored colored shirts and excessive jewelry accessories.

Excerpt from "THE BACHELOR" Pages 4-5-17, "THIS WEEK" PX

Another busy bachelor is J. Edgar Hoover, 33 year old director of the FBI. He was too busy to see us, but an assistant put our questions to him and wrote us the following:

62-1211-A

"Mr Hoover has no philosophy against marriage. On the contrary, he is one of the most vigorous boosters of the family in the country. The advantages of bachelor life, according to the Director, are so few compared to those of married life that he would not care to venture to enumerate them. As for himself, the nature of his work, the long and irregular hours he puts in, the traveling that is required, all convince him that it would be almost impossible to find any woman who would be willing to put up with a home where these obstacles would ever present.

"... In those cases where he has met a girl who would fill the bill, somebody else has already beaten him to the altar."

Bachelor Hoover ducked one question: what was his idea of the ideal girl? It seems that several years ago he admitted that he was waiting for a girl who was "understanding, feminine, practical, old fashioned, and (who) would remain on the pedestal" on which he placed her. Shortly after these remarks were published, his vigil ended abruptly. Hundreds of letters poured in, many containing proposals, all of them apparently from understanding, old fashioned girls. Mr. Hoover has too much official mail to handle now," his assistant told us, "without opening himself to that experience."

Still another busy bachelor lodged in the nation's capital is Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy, for whom marriage was predicted this year by Walter Winchell. So far, Justice Murphy has been best man at 14 distinguished weddings, but never a groom.

United States Department of Justice
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

For inclusion in the fund to be paid to the widow or designated beneficiary of any Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, who had contributed to this fund prior to November 30, 1948, and who dies from any cause except self-destruction while employed as a Special Agent, I am forwarding herewith (by CHECK - ~~MONEY ORDER~~) the sum of ten dollars ($10.00), made payable to the Chief Clerk of said Bureau, to be included in said fund. Payment will be made for death by self-destruction after the Agent has been a member of the fund for two years. It is understood and agreed that the sum tendered herewith is a voluntary, gratuitous contribution to said fund, which I understand is to be administered in the following manner:

The Director of the Bureau will appoint a committee which shall consider all matters pertaining to the acquisition, safe keeping and expending of said fund, which committee will recommend appropriate action to the Director of the Bureau in pertinent matters. The Chief Clerk of said Bureau shall receive all contributions and account for same to the Director.

Upon the death of any Special Agent, the appointed committee will consider the case and submit a recommendation to the Director as to its conclusions. Appropriate instructions will then be issued to the Chief Clerk, directing him to pay to the designated beneficiary the sum of $10,000.

The following person is hereby designated as my beneficiary for F. B. I. Agents' Insurance Fund:

Name Estate Address _____
Relationship _____ Dated _____

The following person is hereby designated as my beneficiary under the Chas. S. Ross Fund providing $1500-death benefit to beneficiary of agents killed in line of duty.

Dear Biographee:

J. Edgar Hoover

Our Editors ask a favor of you . . .

because arrangements have been completed for producing the next Edition of "Who's Who" (Volume 26) by new post war lithographic processes making it possible again to bind into it the Geographical Index to Biographees, as so many have requested, but which . . .

require that the usual thorough sketch-by-sketch checking for each new printing be markedly speeded-up, and therefore . . .

the Editors now have of necessity to request immediate cooperation from you to the extent of checking and bringing down to date the enclosed biography-in-brief of you which appeared in the last volume.

Please scrutinize it carefully, correct errors, if any, and add whatever intervening important occurrences are necessary to provide appropriate currency. You will find information on both sides of the printer's copy sheet to which it is attached that may prove useful in this connection.

Such careful revision of "Who's Who in America" preceding each publication is possible only because of the continuous cooperation extended by the outstanding men and women of the country - the men and women whose worthwhile accomplishments are thereby constantly up-to-date as recorded in its pages so constantly in reference use throughout the world, as typified by the examples given in the announcement of publication accompanying this letter . . .

In fact, this cooperative first-hand checking by the biographee is among the factors establishing "Who's Who" during the past half-century as one of the most widely consulted of biographical reference volumes, and . . .

one reciprocation we are able - and glad - to offer in recognition of this cooperation our Editors must of necessity request . . .

is to extend to "Who's Who" biographees' prepaid subscriptions to it, the same discount (10%) for many years allowed to libraries and schools, if placed before publication so that by setting the initial press-run to include them economically, certain important production savings become obtainable . . .

It is in fact these economies which have principally made it possible to hold the subscription price to but a nominal advance from even the pre-war figure . . .

Indeed, since we are - at least for the time being in respect to biographees - continuing this 10% discount, the advance-subscription price to them for this next Edition (Volume 26, the first issuance in the second half-century of continuous publication of "Who's Who"), with all delivery costs defrayed, is in actuality a matter of but cents above earlier post-war list prices, although production costs have more than doubled . . .

and it is with these practical factors of mutual interest in mind that we also bespeak your cooperation in now placing your subscription to the coming Edition.

* * *

Your cooperation on both these scores will be appreciated, and none the less because the accuracy and the economies involved should be mutually advantageous . . .

while early return of the enclosed printer's proof will be particularly helpful to our Editors for the exceptional reasons I cite - a postpaid envelope is enclosed.

P. S. If correct pronunciation of your name is at all difficult and is not now correctly indicated in the proof, will you kindly show it on the sketch sheet in any convenient way? The increased use of the air for news and commentary purposes has resulted in the indication of correct pronunciation becoming one of the most reference-useful features of "Who's Who".

WHO'S WHO IN ACTION —

James M. Cain, the author, writes: "In the course of an ordinary writing day, one consults the 'World Almanac' at least once, the 'Britannica' three times, the 'Webster Unabridged Dictionary' six; but 'Who's Who in America', in my own case anyway, is thumbed every hour on the hour. This addiction, this habit of settling endless things, from the spelling of a name to the title of a song, by a quick look-see at an appropriate entry, goes back to my childhood, when I made

A summary of the new Edition of Who's Who, the twenty-sixth issuance since Volume 1 was published in 1889.

REVISED: Over 43,000 concise, up-to-the-minute daily-reference-useful biographies, each diligently revised and brought down to date. Increased content—more listings than heretofore—made possible by typographical innovation. Printed—for the first time—by the latest lithographic processes.

AUGMENTED: Over 5,000 entirely new sketches, never before appearing in WHO'S WHO, of outstanding, today's headline-news, living Americans—men and women—and notable foreigners so intimately connected with this country by achievement or current prominence that they are subject to national reference interest in America.

SCOPE: The "in America" in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA is used in its established western continental meaning—the Western Hemisphere—carefully selected groupings representative of Canada and Latin America being listed.

PRONUNCIATION: Pronunciation of difficult—"hard-to-say"—names is given in the first line of sketches, directly after the name. The standard diacritical symbols are used throughout.

SIZE: Over 2,900 pages, but in a still "taller and thinner" size than that introduced several issues ago—easier to handle, better suited to shelving requirements, 10½ inches high, 7¾ inches wide, 2¾ inches thick.

TYPE FACE: Especially selected for reference work and in a wider measure made possible by the new page size.

SPECIAL INDEX: Lists all those, not sketched in WHO'S WHO itself, whose sketches have appeared in the MONTHLY SUPPLEMENT TO WHO'S WHO during the 1948-9 biennium.

TYPICAL COMMENTS FROM USERS OF "WHO'S WHO" —

• These are typical accounts of the WHO'S WHO at work, selected from among many constantly reported to us.

• Knowing they would prefer it so, the names of those who took "time out" from busy and important lives to send these comments are not appended. However, they have been separately filed for convenient reference if any occasion therefor should arise.

A COLLEGE PRESIDENT:

...In my educational work I find that I have frequent use for "Who's Who."

GOVERNOR OF A STATE:

...I cherish "Who's Who" and nothing could persuade me to give it up.

DIRECTOR OF A HEALTH ORGANIZATION:

...We make constant use of "Who's Who" here in the office.

AN EDUCATOR:

...I use "Who's Who" so constantly that I feel I can not spare it.

AN ARTIST:

...In my very varied executive work, I find "Who's Who" an invaluable help, and I frankly do not want to be without it.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF AN ASSOCIATION:

...We need "Who's Who" in our work, not merely as a reference.

DIRECTOR OF A PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION:

...I use "Who's Who" daily, not only for my personal purposes, but as director.

A PUBLIC RELATIONS DIRECTOR:

...I use "Who's Who" constantly and, as a matter of fact, wouldn't know how to get along without it.

AN ECONOMIST:

...I use my copy of "Who's Who" continually and would be very much handicapped without it.

A LABOR LEADER:

...Our copy of "Who's Who" is in use daily.

A LIBRARIAN:

... "Who's Who in America" is probably the most used book in my office.

TREASURER OF AN ASSOCIATION:

...There never was a time when "Who's Who" was so useful. I keep one volume at home, where I use it constantly, and another at my office, where my whole staff uses it anywhere from one to five or ten times a day.

AN ENGINEER:

...As I am using "Who's Who in America" almost daily and have work in connection with one of the food industries, I hardly feel that I could spare the book.

A PAPER MAKER:

...We use "Who's Who" constantly and feel it cannot be spared.

A LAWYER:

...I use my "Who's Who" so much that I do not like to give it up.

A HISTORIAN:

... "Who's Who" is part of my professional stock in trade, and I would be much inconvenienced at parting with it.

A NEWSPAPER EDITOR:

... "Who's Who" is indispensable in our daily work, and it would seriously hamper us to be without it even for a short time.

AN AUTHOR:

... Situated as I am just now, getting out a new book, I am using my copy of "Who's Who" many times every day.

AN EDITOR:

... Compliments upon having made "Who's Who" as necessary, one's local telephone directory.

A LECTURER:

...I have been using "Who's Who" for more than 30 years and it is my opinion that it is now at its best.

DIRECTOR OF A MANUFACTURING PLANT:

...I would not like to part with my "Who's Who," even temporarily, for it is in very constant use.

A CLERGYMAN:

...I could not spare my "Who's Who."

DIFFERENT — BIGGER — BETTER:

...Considering the character of the new "Who's Who," I had expected to pay a premium... it is not simply another volume of "Who's Who," but a different, bigger and better "Who's Who."

MANY IMPROVEMENTS:

...I wish to take this opportunity to compliment you upon the excellence of your latest volume of "Who's Who" and upon the many improvements and helpful additions which it contains.

BEAUTIFULLY MADE-UP:

...The new "Who's Who" is beautifully made up.

"THE BEST YET":

...The new "Who's Who" is the best yet.

the acquaintance of Volume I in the year 1901, in my father's study at Annapolis, during a summer when I was supposed to be hoing square root as a preliminary to a special promotion in school, but actually spent most of my time with this fascinating book, which told all about Roosevelt and Sampson and Schley and Dewey and McKinley and Bryan and other worthies of the era, as well as George W. Cable and James Whitcomb Riley, Joel Chandler Harris and others lying closer to my heart, and transformed them from fabulous newspaper figures into flesh-and-blood human beings.

"My education, thus derived in no small part from these pages, has been invariably my entertainment too: I know of no book so endlessly absorbing as this, so full of surprises, so suitable to sporadic peeping or hour-long poring; if you are a stranger to it, I congratulate you for many pleasant hours lie ahead, an adventure in self-improvement, though one, I am afraid, which is habit-forming."

JAMES M. CAIN.

CHANCEMAN OF A FOUNDATION:

...It would inconvenience us greatly to be without our copy of "Who's Who" as we are constantly referring to it.

A NEWS ANALYST:

... "Who's Who" serves... in my edition, where it is in constant use.

NECESSARY:

...we would not know what to do without a current volume of "Who's Who."

"WVVALUABLE":

...This reference volume—"Who's Who"—is an invaluable one, and we could not do without it.

A SERVICE:

...Please accept our appreciation for the fine services rendered to public affairs and the field of scholarship by your company in publishing "Who's Who."

"EXCELLENT":

...This most excellent volume—"Who's Who" is used by all in this department and is now state property.

COMMUNICATION HELPS:

...We are especially interested in the pronunciation of proper names as now supplied by "Who's Who."

A "SWELL JOB OF BOOKMAKING":

...Herewith my cheque—plus congratulations upon a swell job of bookmaking.

PLEASED WITH NEW FORMAT:

...We like the new "Who's Who in America."

MAGAZINE EXECUTIVE:

...I use "Who's Who" almost daily in my work.

AT THE SHOW:

...At the elbow of every telegraph editor in all first-rate newspapers is a copy of "Who's Who," to him an invaluable volume, thumbed to the nth degree many times a week.

USUAL:

...I have found "Who's Who" useful, and have had many occasions to refer to it—it has proved especially helpful in securing background data on those who come to our office.

"A GREAT WORK":

... "Who's Who" has been doing a great and useful work through the years.

BIOGRAPHEE PRE-PUBLICATION

WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA

The after-publication (list) price of the new Volume 26 is $13.60 (and 50 cents on account of shipping and delivery), but if this order is placed by the biographee named on the covering envelope and is accompanied by remittance (business, institution or individual check), the biographee's prepaid pre-publication 10% discount—extended to in some degree reciprocate for the cooperation in checking data for accuracy which the Editors must of necessity request—may be taken, making the net (delivered) price $12.70 (to biographees only). Otherwise billing will be made at the (delivered) list price after publication. "Who's Who" represents a normal professional or business expense. THE BASIS FOR LISTINGS

Listings in "Who's Who in America" are selected solely on the basis of the editors' estimate of actual or probable reference interest, sufficiently widespread to be more than merely sectional and resulting from meritorious achievement. Initiative on the part of those selected biographers is not a consideration, nor their desires to be, or not to be, listed, although their cooperation in supplying and checking data, in order to assure accuracy of advantage to them and all concerned, is sought and appreciated. Whether or not such cooperation is forthcoming, all those selected, and considered to be subject to a requisite degree of reference interest, are listed. It follows, then, that a listing is to be necessary in the service of reference adequacy is in no way optional with the scope of biographies and that no consideration—purchase of the volume; monetary or political influence of any type or degree—other than the factor of actual or probable reference interest, can effect a listing. No listing has been otherwise determined since the establishment of "Who's Who in America" over fifty years ago. More complete details regarding qualifications for listing will be gladly supplied by the editors on request, and some are outlined in each copy of "Who's Who."

REVISION OF LISTINGS

Since reference interest is the determinative factor in the selection of listings, it likewise is the deciding consideration in respect to revisions and deletions. Listings are dropped or transferred to the inactive classification principally according to the editors' estimate of current reference interest, and therefore no other meaning should be attached to such revisions. However, if a biographer does not furnish an address to which requests for current data may be sent, or fails to supply current information from which the editors may judge the degree of reference interest involved, a transfer to the inactive classification is in the majority of instances to be expected. Inactive sketches are reprinted and then ultimately permanently indexed as non-current in "Who Was Who in America."

THE PURPOSE SERVED BY LISTINGS

As indicated above, the purpose of "Who's Who in America" is to serve more than merely sectional reference interest in men and women of meritorious achievement.

Since there are instances of worthwhile accomplishment not being subject to more than sectional reference interest, and as well ones of outstanding life records not being considered particularly noteworthy locally, the reasons for all listings may well not be at all self-evident. However, in respect to all, the answer to but one query has been decisive: "Is it likely that some reference center—such as a library—may be asked for information about this biography, or that some constructive user of biographical data—such as a newspaperman, a student, a biographer, a researcher or a commentator—may want biographical facts about him or her?" The uses of "Who's Who" in the private library, and for individual or business service, are both many and well known because of decades of demonstrated effectiveness, but they are also obviously dependent upon the constant observance of this basic consideration of reference utility extending beyond merely sectional requirements.

This morning a Miss Walters of the Leave Office of the Department, extension 736, telephonically contacted me at the instructions of Mr. John Adler, Personnel Officer, and stated that the Department would like to have the record of sick and annual leave taken by the Director for the calendar years 1945 through 1948 to the present time. She stated that this request was predicated on a letter from the U. S. Senate Committee on Post Office and Civil Service which had been sent to all Departments on the matter of Leave and which, besides soliciting the independent suggestions of the Departments for the improvement of the Leave System, requested to be advised of the amount of sick and annual leave taken by the administrators, assistant administrators, and secretaries of the various departments. The Department of Justice stated that it was interested only in the Director's leave.

In the event authorization is given, the writer will telephonically furnish this information to Miss Walters.

HLE:FWE

In accordance with your instructions, Miss Walters was advised the Bureau's records reflected 5 days of annual leave taken by the Director in 1946 and no annual or sick leave at any other time during the period in which they were interested. For your information, Mr. John Adler, Personnel Officer of the Department, stated that the Attorney General had instructed that the leave records of himself, his Assistant, the Solicitor General, the Administrative Assistant - Andretta, the Directors of the FBI and Bureau of Prisons, and the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization be furnished to the Senate Committee.

IN RUMEL CASE DENIED LOYALTY CASE HEARINGS. BY Joseph
W. G. --JUL. 14, 1948.

FBI--Despite all reports to the contrary, F. I. Chief, J. Edgar Hoover has no plans to resign from the post he has held since 1924.

Close associates of Mr. Hoover say he will remain on the job as long as his Government wants him to.

There have been various reports that Mr. Hoover would resign, effective January 1, to take a far more lucrative job in private industry. But Mr. Hoover's associates say this is not the case.

They point out that, if he had been interested in big-money jobs, he would have left the Federal service a long time ago.
Incidentally, Mr. Hoover is on very friendly terms with Gov.
Dewey, and if the Republicans win in November, it is practically certain Gov. Dewey will ask him to stay on the job.

The same holds true for the rest of the FBI's personnel. If the Republicans win in November, there will be less change-over in FBI jobs than in any other agency in the Government.

Dear Mr. Hoover

The Editorial Board has selected you as a prominent government official to be included in the 1949 edition of "Who's Who in Federal Administration."

This biographical dictionary is designed to codify the biographies of leading government officials in one convenient publication. The criteria for selection have been carefully defined so that the number and type of executives and scientists included would represent only the highest and most significant levels of the federal service.

~~Biographical Research, Inc.~~
Attached for your convenience is an autobiographical questionnaire which should be executed and returned in the enclosed self-addressed, stamped envelope at your earliest opportunity. Sketches will be edited only to the extent necessary to standardize style and format.

Our present editorial schedule necessitates the return of this material within two weeks to meet publication deadlines. Your cooperation and participation will be appreciated.

Dear Mrs. Dudley:

With reference to your letter dated June 18, 1948, enclosing a biographical sketch which you intend to use in the 1949 printing of the Encyclopedia Americana, I wish to advise that I defer to your judgment in the matter, although I do think in fairness it would be well to consider the sources of the reference that I have been "criticized rather severely" for my conduct in office. The article is being returned herewith.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Enclosed herewith is a biographical sketch of you which we have had prepared for our 1948 printing.

Would you be kind enough to examine it and, if you think it should be revised, make whatever revisions seem to you desirable? My own feeling about this sketch is that it places rather too much emphasis on the FBI and not enough on its subject. However, that would be for you to decide.

Thanking you for your kind cooperation,

Sincerely yours,

and was graduated from the Central High School in 1913, valedictorian of his class. He then studied law at night at George Washington Uni-

In the latter year he was appointed to the Department of Justice, and in 1919-1921, served as special assistant to the Attorney General.
He was appointed assistant director of the Bureau of Investigation in 1921, and remained

In 1933, Mr. Hoover established the school for training FBI personnel; in 1932 he set up the technical laboratory, which in the fiscal year 1947, made a total of 73,753 scientific examinations, involving 67,686 different pieces of evidence, for both federal and non-federal agencies, all without charge. In 1933, the Civil Identification section was established to supply information relating to missing persons. In 1935, the FBI National Police Academy was opened. In it are trained policemen from all over the country. Its graduates return to their respective homes and there impart to other members of the local force the latest methods of crime detection which was taught them at the academy. Curiously enough, it was not until 1934 that agents of the FBI were permitted to carry firearms, though two years earlier the federal kidnapping law had come into effect and the country was swarming with sports criminals with which the FBI had to deal. From the enactment of the federal kidnapping law to the end of the fiscal year 1947, 311 kidnappings had been investigated by the FBI, and 216 had been solved. The other two were still under investigation. In the 1947 fiscal year, FBI investigations resulted in 11,912 convictions--26.2 per cent. of all cases brought and 12,324 stolen automobiles were recovered. The fingerprint division of the bureau, which contained but 810,000 fingerprint cards when Mr. Hoover took over in 1924, had, at the end of the 1947 fiscal year, 104,500,000 cards of which 16,500,000 represented the arrest records of approximately 7,500,000 individual criminals and suspects. Seventy-two foreign countries and five territories and possessions of the United States participated in the international exchange of fingerprints during the year. In Mr. Hoover's direction, most of the most notorious criminals in the history of the country have been run to earth--killed or captured. The list includes John Dillinger, Pretty Boy Floyd, and Alvin Karpis, all killers.

At times Mr. Hoover has been criticised for his overbearing manner and for his office. But his greatness and his long hours of untiring work have been his strength. Law is a difficult and certain. It is his better tribute to his popularity with the American public can be cited than the fact that at least 16 universities and colleges have awarded him honorary degrees. His list of medals and awards is entirely too numerous to mention.

OFFICE MEMORANDUM

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : MR. TOLSON
FROM : H. H. CLEGG
SUBJECT:

DATE: 4/23/48

Congressman Rankin of Mississippi telephoned. He introduced a bill in January, 1947 to make the FBI an independent agency. He has not been able to get appropriate action that pleased him and he stated that the Congress of the United States should have a source of information so that it can be kept informed as to world needs -- with an atomic bomb hanging over the heads of everybody it is a shame that the Congress can not find out what is going on -- and he knows that the hands of the FBI are tied.

He wanted to know the present salary of the Director, and I told him. He stated that his original bill would continue the Director's salary as it was then - $10,000. He is going to get a petition to bring this bill to a vote and on the floor he will move that the Director's salary be increased to $15,000. He stated that he had no doubt that the bill would pass if he can get it out on the floor. I informed him that, as the Director had told him personally and as I had assured him several times, he could not indicate any approval or disapproval on the part of the Director or anybody in the FBI. He stated that he clearly understands this; that this is a matter that he is sponsoring personally; that he thinks the Government needs this; that, as he said on the floor before, John Edgar Hoover is the most important official of the Federal government. He said that he wanted to tell me that if the Republicans had any damn sense they would nominate he for President and I told him that if the Democrats had any sense they would too. He seemed surprised that the Director had no active political affiliation and I told him the facts that the Director had been born and raised in the District of Columbia. He wanted the Director to know of his plans.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. NICHOLS

Re: Director's Biographical Sketch

JOHN EDGAR HOOVER

With regard to the Director's observation on the attached pink memo concerning his being a member of the executive committee of the Federal Bar Association, you are advised that this has been checked and actually Mr. Hoover is no longer on the committee. A letter was sent on May 28, 1945, to Robert H. Shields, national president of the Federal Bar Association, in response to Shields' letter inviting the Director to continue for another year. The Director advised Shields that it would not be possible to accept since he was not able to attend meetings regularly because of the pressure of his official schedule.

This has been deleted from the biographical sketch and a mimeographed copy of the revised sketch is attached.

Nichols - This should have been checked in preparation.

Dear Sir:

For inclusion in the fund to be paid to the widow or designated beneficiary of any Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, who had contributed to this fund prior to February 15, 1948, and who dies from any cause except self-destruction while employed as a Special Agent, I am forwarding herewith (by CHECK - MONEY ORDER) the sum of ten dollars ($10.00), made payable to the Chief Clerk of said Bureau, to be included in said fund. Payment will be made for death by self-destruction after the Agent has been a member of the fund for two years. It is understood and agreed that the sum tendered herewith is a voluntary, gratuitous contribution to said fund, which I understand is to be administered in the following manner:

The Director of the Bureau will appoint a committee which shall consider all matters pertaining to the acquisition, safe keeping and expending of said fund, which committee will recommend appropriate action to the Director of the Bureau in pertinent matters. The Chief Clerk of said Bureau shall receive all contributions and account for same to the Director.

Upon the death of any Special Agent, the appointed committee will consider the case and submit a recommendation to the Director as to its conclusions. Appropriate instructions will then be issued to the Chief Clerk, directing him to pay to the designated beneficiary the sum of $10,000.

The following person is hereby designated as my beneficiary for F. B. I. Agents' Insurance Fund:

Senora de Lewis Greets Guests

Panamanian High Award Presented to Mr. Hoover

By Marie McNair

Panama's high award—the National Order of Vasco Nunez de Balboa—was conferred on J. Edgar Hoover, Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, yesterday at a reception given by the Panama Ambassador and Senora de Lewis.

It seemed to me that the speeches had come under the wartime rationing plan yesterday for they were brief and to the point. The Ambassador was happy to present the decoration on behalf of his government to Mr. Hoover, and Mr. Hoover was equally happy to accept.

And there wasn't much more to it than that, except that Mr. Hoover added America's prayer to that of Panama in a just and lasting peace.

Fountain in Garden

Earlier, before the ceremony held in the paneled drawing room, guests had gathered on the terrace for a cool drink to admire the pink and white dogwood, the little splashing fountain set down in the center of the flagstones and to enjoy the gentle breezes blowing up from the park. Still earlier they had been greeted by the Ambassador and Senora de Lewis and for many it was their first opportunity to meet this diplomatic hostess who had been ill when the Ambassador, then Foreign Minister, paid a visit to Washington some months ago. Petite and dark haired with a warm smile, Senora de Lewis wore a becoming chartreuse gown yesterday, the bodice dotted with matching sequins to the hipline where the skirt fell in full graceful folds.

Mrs. Edward Stettinius, wife of the Secretary of State, was one of the first arrivals, glowing with a happy tan after a fortnight's stay at her country estate near Charlottesville, Va. She stayed long enough to pose for the camera with Admiral Harold Train, who holds the Vasco Nunez de Balboa decoration, and Mrs. Train, who had with them their son, Harry, just about to enter the Naval Academy.

The Attorney General, Francis Biddle, and Mrs. Biddle were there, and the Spanish Ambassador, Juan de Cardenas, with Senora de Cardenas, in black with a French blue straw hat with inverted brim filled with black velvet bows and flowers. Dr. Carlos Blanco, Ambassador of Uruguay, came alone; so did the Nicaraguan Ambassador, Dr. Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa, still getting congratulations on the birth of a daughter a week or so ago.

Champagne Served

The Honduran Ambassador and Senora de Caceres were in the gathering, and I caught sight of the Costa Rican Ambassador, Francisco Gutierrez, in the dining room, where chilled and dry champagne was being served and a delicious supper of warm chicken and potatoes was being served.

Here also were the Panamanian Ambassador, Emilio Garcia, and Senora de Godey in a red flower hat; the Charge d'Affaires of El Salvador, Dr. Felipe Gomez; the Minister-Counselor of the Peruvian Embassy, Dr. Eduardo Garland, and Senora de Garland, whose black costume was accented with a hat of pale pink satin.

Alfaro Families There

In a group were the Alfaro family—Capt. Colon Alfaro, former Ambassador of Ecuador, and Senora de Alfaro, whose husband, Ricardo Alfaro, is a former Ambassador of Panama and was his country's President. Mrs. John Morgan—she was Cecilia Alfaro—was also there with her son, John Morgan.

Pretty Mrs. Stanley Morgan, whose long sequin bow in her hair was there with her husband, Arthur Stanley, who was after another of his famous sales of laughter and Mrs. Stanley was there too, former States Minister to Ecuador. Mrs. Jennings Egan was accompanied by Mrs. Egan and Mrs. J. Edgar Hoover were among the many who stayed on.

Dr. Thomas Collins, who wears the ribbon of the Legion of Honor, was there with his wife, Mrs. Collins, and Mrs. Collins was there with her husband, Mr. Collins, and Mrs. Collins was there with her husband, Mr. Collins, and Mrs. Collins was there with her husband, Mr. Collins.

Mr. Hoover stayed until late in the evening, shortly after midnight broke up. Leaving with him were Mr. W. A. Rorer, Col. J. Russell Young, son of District Commissioner, and Young, Albert Young, and Vanette Young, Mrs. George Young, Mrs. George Young, the most beautiful of the night.

Panama Ambassador and His Wife Hold First Official Fete at Flower Decked Embassy

By BETTY HYNES

DOGWOOD, pink and white, bloomed within and without the Embassy of Panama yesterday where the recently appointed Ambassador Samuel Lewis and Senora de Lewis entertained at their first official party "after six." The fete was in honor of J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who received Panama's distinguished decoration, the National Order of Vasco Nunez de Balboa for his work in continental defense during the war years.

The gold and turquoise enameled medal with the medallion portrait head of Balboa, suspended from a broad ribbon of turquoise and burgundy, was presented to Mr. Hoover with an eloquent speech in Spanish by the Ambassador, whereupon toasts were drunk in champagne.

Senora Lewis Lovely In Yellow Crepe

Senora de Lewis, lovely in a yellow crepe afternoon gown glistening with paillettes, reminded us that it was Balboa who first discovered the Pacific "silent on a peak in Darien" and not Cortes as Poet Keats would have it. "And," added Mr. Hoover, "the Panama Canal was one of our most vulnerable spots at the outbreak of the war, and Panama one of the first to come actively to our defense."

One of the most interested spectators was Adm. Harold Train, who received a similar honor a year ago, and who, with Mrs. Train, chatted with Mrs. Edward Stettinius, wife of the Secretary of State, in the lovely garden, where the fountain played an accompaniment to the lulling conversation. The Spanish Ambassador and Senora de Cardenas were immediately surrounded upon their arrival.

Senora de Cardenas just back from three months' rest on their farm and looking marvelous, with a dashing flower and fruit hat from du Flessis.

The Ambassador of Uruguay, Dr. Juan Carlos Blanco, out for one of his first fetes since his illness, was being greeted on every hand. Senora de Caesars wore one of her new flowered bonnets, and was accompanied by her husband, the Ambassador of Honduras. The Ambassador of Nicaragua Dr. Guillermo Bevelia Sacasa was receiving congratulations on his new baby daughter. The wife of the Ambassador of Costa Rica, Senora de Gutierrez also was winning honors for her gay chapeau and they both talked with the Ambassador of Haiti Andre Lantaud.

Peruvian Envoy Also Is Present

The Minister Counselor at the Peruvian Embassy brought along his pretty Senora de Garland; the Ecuadorian Ambassador, accompanied by his chic wife, said he was leaving on the twentieth for San Francisco; and we saw the Cuban Ambassador and Senora de Mora; the very attractive Senora de Belt with her Cuban ambassadorial husband; the Ambassador of the Dominican Republic and Senora de Garcia Godoy.

All the members of the Panamanian Embassy staff gave gracious assistance to their chief and his charming wife.

and we also saw Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Moran, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morris, Clyde Tolson, Dr. and Mrs. Ricardo J. Alfaro, Howard Hazen Wilson, the daughter of the Ambassador, Carmen Teresa Lewis, and her brothers, Samuel Jr., and Gabriel; Dr. and Mrs. Tomas Caygas, Dr. and Mrs. William Jennings Price, Col. and Mrs. Russell Young Jr. and ever so many more.

Plus for the tea-time "pick-me-up" which with Michel Werboff, of Manhattan, really is tea, the noted portrait painter was greeting many of his friends at the Mayflower lounge yesterday. It was a brief respite in a busy day for the artist in town on the serious business of making a portrait drawing of the Very Rev. Angus Dun, Bishop of Washington, and of pursuing studies at the National Gallery where he had spent the afternoon analyzing the work of Velasquez and Frans Hals.

At the moment Werboff is lining up the impressive group of pictures he will show at his annual exhibit at the Wildenstein Galleries which opens in New York on May 17 for four weeks. Among some of the treasures to be shown are portraits of Mrs. Allen Forbes, lovely Gemilla Straight, daughter of the Whitney Straights; handsome Herbert Pell, former Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, Eric Pinna, of the Metropolitan Opera as Don Giovanni; William Church Osborn, head of the Metropolitan Museum of Art; Mrs. Katherine Walston, Mrs. Alma Clayburgh and Miss Marjorie Green, of Cape Gerardo, Mo., whom Werboff thinks one of the most beautiful young women he has ever painted. Poet Joseph Alexander, who was to have written a prologue to the catalogue, has written a stirring poem instead, which he has dedicated to the artist.

Panama Envoy Bestows Medal On Mr. Hoover at Reception

By Betty Milliken

Nearly a century ago a young British diplomat was sent to Panama to represent his country as Consul. His name, oddly enough, was Louis Lewis. While there, His Majesty's representative met and fell in love with a beautiful Panamanian girl, whom he later married. Today Panama is represented here by Senor Samuel Lewis, a direct descendant of the former British Consul, and his bride of the Isthmus.

Yesterday, Senor Samuel Lewis bestowed the National Order of Vasco Nunez de Balboa, one of the highest decorations of his country, upon Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, for his work in continental defense during the war. The occasion for the presentation was a large reception at which Senor and Senora de Lewis were hosts, their first official party since the envoy's appointment to this post a few weeks ago.

Prominent among the guests yesterday was Rear Admiral Harold C. Train, U. S. N., who had received a similar decoration from the Republic of Panama a year ago. With Mrs. Train and their young son Harry the admiral attracted many glances by his five rows of colorful campaign ribbons.

Not all of the guests at the party yesterday were aware that it celebrated another occasion—the 15th birthday anniversary of the young daughter of the household, Senorita Carmen Teresa Lewis, who is a student at Holton Arms School. Introducing her to the guests were her brothers, Senor Samuel Lewis, Jr., and Senor Gabriel Lewis. The former, whose youthful countenance belies his 18 years, will leave shortly to finish his studies in Panama. The other brother attends Friends School here.

The movie idol of young Panamanians, Senor Pedro Armendaris—the "Clark Gable" of the Isthmus—was among those at the reception yesterday, coming to the Capital for his countrymen's party as well as for the Pan American ball to be given tonight at the Willard.

The hostess chose for the reception yesterday a gown of chartreuse crepe embroidered in iridescent sequins, with two large white flowers at the side of the waistline.

Tall vases filled with dogwood blossoms and pale salmon-color gladioluses were used to decorate the drawing room of the Embassy, with calla lilies and white snapdragon forming the centerpiece on the tea table in the dining room. Much credit for the arrangements for the party was given to Jean Raymond, the Embassy butler, who has been the faithful retainer of each succeeding envoy and his family from Panama for many years. The menu, which he supervised, included creamed chicken in patty shells, with a delectable sauce, and tiny meat balls which one of my Latin American friends called "meatballs."

The Honduran Ambassador and Senora de Caceres, who were in the large company of diplomats and their families at the fête, walked over from their Embassy on Woodley Place. Senora de Caceres' becoming flower-decked hat was fashioned of soft pink satin. The Ambassador of Nicaragua, Dr. Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa, boasted of the beauty of his infant daughter, born March 30 and named for his pretty wife; and one remembered that two other new and attractive young couples who have been added to the diplomatic contingent in the Capital.

dorian Ambassador and Senora de Plaza, the latter wearing a modish little hat of black tulle yesterday, and the Cuban Ambassador and Senora de Bell, the latter in all-black, her broad-brimmed millan hat having a single rose and silver veil for its trimming.

Roses, too, pale pink ones and others in deeper shades, trimmed the tiny raspberry-color straw hat which Senora de Garcia Godoy, wife of the Dominican Ambassador, wore yesterday, and a high-crowned, brimless hat of pink satin was worn by Senora de Garland, wife of the Charge d'Affaires of the Peruvian Embassy. Saturday the Garlands will give a farewell party for the retiring Minister-Counselor of the Spanish Embassy and Senora de Davis.

The Costa Rican Ambassador and Senora de Gutierrez were in the large company, as were Senora Alfaro, wife of the former Panamanian Ambassador; Carl Kroy Alfaro, former Ecuadorian Ambassador; the Attorney General, Francis Biddle; the Consul General of the Papal States, Dr. L. S. Rowe; Dr. and Mrs. Ham Jennings Prior, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Vennell, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Godby, Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris, Lt. Comdr. E. Martin McGehee, U. S. N. R., and Lt. Comdr. Moran, U. S. N. R.
